NEWS AND NOTICES

The University's annual lecture series for leading senior students at Victoria secondary schools began on January 15 with a lecture by DR. C.D. TARLTON (department of economics and political science) on "War and Civil Rights". The series continues each Saturday morning until March 5th, excluding the mid-term break on February 12th. Members of the faculty are welcome to attend these lectures, and to take part in the discussions that follow. The next two speakers are DR. W.R. GORDON (department of mathematics) and DR. S.W. JACKMAN (department of history), to lecture January 22nd and January 29th, respectively. Both lectures begin at 9:30 a.m. in the SUB Club Room.

A Defence Research Board Symposium in Ottawa last month heard a report by DR. JOHN DEWEY (department of physics) on the results of "Operation Sailor Hat", an international study of the effects of blast waves on ships. This month Dr. Dewey, who was Canadian technical director of the operation, will describe its results to the Pacific naval laboratory staff and the technical staff officers at Esquimalt Naval Base.

DR. JOHN DeLUCCA, head of the department of philosophy, was elected to the executive committee of the American Philosophical Association's Pacific Division at the division's annual meeting in San Francisco last month. Dr. DeLucca was also appointed programme chairman for the 1966 meeting in San Diego.
